What does the fund invest in?

The investment objective of the Fund is to preserve capital and generate returns through current income and capital appreciation by investing primarily in subordinated debt and income producing instruments issued by governments, corporations and financial institutions in the developed world. The Fund will invest primarily in subordinated fixed-income securities and will focus on corporate, government, and agency debt.

In ordinary market conditions, it is expected that approximately 50% of the Fund's investment portfolio will be comprised of foreign securities. However, the Fund's exposure to foreign securities is not subject to any specific limit and may vary significantly from time to time depending on market conditions and the availability of suitable investment opportunities.

The Fund has received an exemption that allows it to increase the limit on aggregate short sale exposure to government securities of a single issuer to 20% of the net asset value. It has also received an exemption from the cash cover requirement to hold cash in an amount that, together with portfolio assets deposited with borrowing agents as security in connection with short sales by the mutual fund, is at least 150% of the aggregate market value of securities sold short by the mutual fund on a mark-to-market basis.

How risky is it?

The value of the Fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk rating

Algonquin has rated the volatility of this Fund as low.

Because this is a new fund, the risk rating is only an estimate by Algonquin. Generally, the rating is based on how much the Fund's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the Fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the Fund's returns, see "What are the Risks of Investing in the Fund?" section of the Fund's simplified prospectus.

No guarantees

Like most mutual funds, this Fund doesn't have any guarantees. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

Who is this Fund for?

Investors who:

- want to gain exposure to a diversified portfolio of primarily investment grade fixed-income investments;
- want to gain exposure to alternative investment strategies to diversify the fixed income portion of their investment portfolio;
- plan to invest for the medium term or longer; and
- are comfortable with a low risk level.

A word about tax

In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the Fund in a registered plan such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested. If you hold your fund inside a registered plan, you will include fund distributions and other amounts you withdraw from your registered plan in your income for tax purposes. Different rules apply for Tax-Free Savings Accounts.

How much does it cost?

The following table shows the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series A Units of the Fund.

The fees and expenses – including any commissions – can vary among series of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about other funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

Sales charges

You may have to pay a sales charge when you buy Series A Units of the Fund.

Sales Charge	What you pay		How it works
	In per cent (%)	in dollars ($)
Initial sales charge	0 – 5% of the amount you buy	$0 – $50 for every $1,000 you buy	• You and your representative negotiate on the rate. • The initial sales charge is deducted from the amount you buy. • It goes to your representative's firm as a commission.

Fund expenses

You don't pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the Fund's returns.

The Fund's expenses are made up of the management fee, operating expenses and trading costs. The Fund's Series A annual management fee is 1.15% of the net asset value of the Series A Units.

Because Series A is new, operating expenses and trading costs are not yet available.

More about the trailing commission

The trailing commission is an ongoing commission. It is paid for as long as you own the Fund. It is for the services and advice that your representative and their firm provide to you.

Algonquin pays the trailing commission to your representative's firm. The trailing commission is paid on a quarterly basis. It is paid from the Fund's management fee and is based on the value of your investment. In respect of Series A Units of the Fund, the trailing commission payable is up to 0.50% of the value of your investment each year, which equals up to $5.00 each year on every $1,000 invested.

Other fees

You may have to pay other fees when you buy, hold, sell or redesignate Series A Units of the Fund.

Fee	What you pay
Short-Term Trading Fee	2% of the value of Series A Units you sell within 30 days of buying them. This fee goes to the Fund.
Redesignation Fee	Up to 2% of the value of the Series A Units you redesignate. This fee goes to your representative's firm.

What if I change my mind?

Under securities law in some provinces and territories, you have the right to:

- withdraw from an agreement to buy mutual funds within two (2) business days after you receive a simplified prospectus or Fund Facts document, or
- cancel your purchase order within forty-eight (48) hours after you receive confirmation of the purchase.

In some provinces and territories, you also have the right to cancel a purchase, or in some jurisdictions, claim damages, if the simplified prospectus, Fund Facts document or financial statements contain a misrepresentation. You must act within the time limit set by the securities law in your province or territory.

For more information, see the securities law of your province or territory or ask a lawyer.
